

EAST RIVER STREET AND FOOTBALL GAME

CARS WILL BE RUNNING
NEARLY ALL WAY TO PARK

OUTLOOK OF TEAMS

Auburn Defeated Florida Yesterday
By Small Score—Clemson in Good Shape.

There has been much speculation as to whether the street cars will be running to the baseball park on Saturday, the day of the Clemson-Auburn game. The cars will be running within one block of the park at that time, and though the street will not be open, to traffic its entire length, a good way to the park is to go out McDuffie street out East Market and then down to Hornet street. At the end of Hornet street the back gate of the park is in sight.

The work on the street car paving was finished Saturday. The force will be moved to Greenville street Monday morning and it only remains for the concrete to set before it can be used. It is hardly probable that the line will run all the way to the park by Saturday.

Forecasts of the game are showing 10 favorites. Past reputation weighs heavily for Auburn, though Clemson has developed strength rapidly within the last two weeks. Major is rapidly getting back into the game, and with him, McMillan, McConnell and others back in form, Clemson will no weak team. The strength that Major adds by his personality is greater than his actual playing. He serves greatly to hold the team together and the entire team plays much better half when he is in the game. Their tie with Davidson on last Saturday was rather disheartening to supporters of the team. This should not be taken as an ill omen, for Clemson had very little practice before the game and went up against the largest and best team in the history of Davidson football. They played a good game, and showed that they are still on the grounds. Auburn playing Florida yesterday only defeated them by a score of six to nothing. That is a very small score when the strength of the teams is considered relatively. General dope on the game is promising for a good close contest, and a battle royal. Clemson is good, so is Auburn, and it will be the best team that wins.

The advertising committee for the game has gone to work and are posting the town with placards advertising the event. These placards will be sent to all neighboring cities and it is estimated that not less than one thousand people will come to Anderson for the game.

TEACHERS' MEETING WAS GRAND SUCCESS

ATTENDANCE WAS ESPECIALLY GOOD AND INTEREST
SHOWN

SPLENDID ADDRESS

By Dr. John E. White on "Economic, Social and Moral Value of a Child."

Seventy teachers from over the county were present yesterday at noon in the West Market street school to attend the first meeting this season of the Anderson County Teachers' association. Those who are at the head of this association were very much gratified with the attendance as well as the meeting as a whole and Supt. Felton stated yesterday afternoon that he thought it was one of the best the county had had since the association was organized.

The first business before the body was that of electing officers for the ensuing year which resulted as follows: Mr. J. B. Watkins to take the place of Mr. George Welborn as president; Miss Lola Copeland to take the place of Mr. L. M. Mahaffey, vice president; Miss Cleo Bailey, secretary and treasurer, to take the place of Miss Lillian Clinkscales.

After officers were elected, Dr. James P. Kinnear, president of Anderson college, was introduced and after a few remarks he introduced Dr. John E. White, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Dr. White's address was on the "Economic, Social and Moral Value of a Child," he using as a theme from the Bible, "And a little child shall lead them."

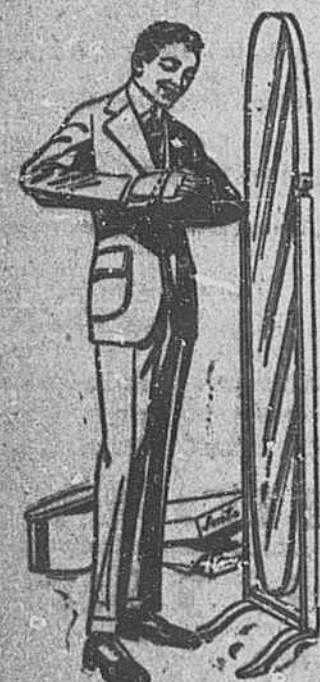

"This address was one of the best I have heard, stated one of the teachers who was present yesterday. It was one of the best things ever delivered before one of the meetings of the association and caused us to think new things, and, will I believe, cause us to do new things."

It would be too great a task to go into the details of Dr. White's address, but it may be said that he handled his subject, which is rather unique, in such a way that those present went away with much more feeling of responsibility because of being teachers, and, therefore, their duty to train a child up in the way that it should go.

After Dr. White finished, Mr. J. B. A. Mullaly made a few remarks as a teacher, after which a light luncheon was served, which had been prepared by the pupils in the domestic science department of the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Johnson of Liberty were visitors in Anderson yesterday.
